

5 REASONS Why You Need Renter's Insurance

What if you had to replace everything in your home, right now? It could be quite expensive. Protect your financial well-being by having the right insurance.

1 Things happen that are beyond your control.
Renter's insurance helps you prepare for the unpredictable.

2 It's one of the most affordable kinds of insurance.
Depending on your situation, a policy can cost $1 a day or less.

3 No one else insures your property.
Your landlord's coverage on the home doesn't include your belongings or pay for you to stay somewhere else in case the home is rendered unlivable by a disaster.

4 Protect yourself from liability.
A policy can cover medical bills if someone is injured in the home while you're leasing it, and it may even include damage caused by your family members or pets at other people's homes.

5 Belongings may be covered outside of your home.
Depending on the renter's policy, possessions that are stolen or lost while you're traveling – for example if something is taken from your car – could be covered, too. Ask your agent for details.
