

Things We Like about 11 Redtail Court

- 11 Redtail Court has much better off-street parking than almost all other units in Hunters Run. The driveway receives a LOT of sun during the Winter months; this orientation will be greatly appreciated when snow starts falling. Because the property is an end-unit, you won't have to struggle to find a destination for shoveled snow.
- A very functional garage space with an epoxy-finished concrete floor makes Spring clean-ups less of a chore.
- The functional, high-capacity Laundry Room with a folding surface really simplifies the process of routine laundry tasks.
- After experiencing a long, relaxing, hot sit-down shower in the basement bathroom, you might understand why this might be our favorite room in the house.
- The cedar-lined closet in the basement helps keep expensive formal wear and off-season clothing in pristine condition.
- Tile and hardwood flooring are abundant at 11 Redtail Court. Having durable, easy-to-clean surfaces minimizes maintenance. Spend more time relaxing!
- Composite deck materials also help reduce costly and tedious exterior maintenance.
- The large kitchen island provides extra storage to keep things tidy, and having a lot of kitchen counter surface area really comes in handy when guests arrive.
- The large pine trees at the back of the property are a benefit you might have overlooked. In addition to helping to provide Four-Season privacy, they also become a wind-break when cold Winter winds from the Northwest begin to blow.
- The community walking trails make for safe, healthy fresh-air strolls.
- Great Valley Schools. Good school districts help protect the value of any real estate investment.
- Having the Okehocking Nature Preserve only 1 mile away? AWESOME !
- Did we mention end-unit privacy ??

To the greatest extent possible, we selected 11 Redtail Court to be our home because it merged two ideals:

- The privacy of a single-family home in a good school district, and
- The convenience, efficiency and low-maintenance lifestyle of a luxury townhome.

We hope you enjoy your visit to 11 Redtail !!
